

Babes in the Wood party

This is your chance to have your very own “Babes in the Woods” party, themed around whatever your child is interested in whether it be elves, owls, tractors or elves and owls driving tractors. If we don’t have a story that suits your theme, we will write one especially for your party.

After meeting, greeting and “keeping safe in the woods” there will be a story followed by an activity based on the story (usually making something to take home).

Bushcraft party

You could choose a Bushcraft themed party. Here the emphasis is less on story and play and more on skill building and knowledge. We are very experienced at working with all ages and keeping participants safe around fire and tool work.
